

Synopsys Executive Briefing Center

Our Solutions for Today, and Vision for Tomorrow

In overcoming the increasingly complex challenges of our industry, it's critical to build closer collaboration between partners, customers, and suppliers. That's why the Synopsys Executive Briefing Center isn't just a place in which to focus on the crucial technology details; it's also a place for dialogue and the free exchange of ideas around the "technomics" of IC design.

Therefore, in addition to learning more about our software and IP for semiconductor design, verification and manufacturing, you will have a unique opportunity to get closer to our people. Our research and development, technical applications, and executive teams have a wealth of technology, industry and business expertise to share. To ensure a highly productive visit for you and your company, we call on the right combination of this outstanding staff to meet with and hear from you, and to provide up-to-date status on what we're doing to help you be successful in your current or upcoming projects.

We look forward to welcoming you to our Executive Briefing Center soon. I wish you an enjoyable and productive visit.

Sincerely,

Aart de Geus
Chairman and CEO

A visit to the Synopsys Executive Briefing Center is a chance to learn how you can achieve predictable success for your chip designs. Our solutions help you differentiate your products, work more productively and ultimately, maximize your profitability.

- ▶ The Galaxy Implementation Platform is a comprehensive solution for cell-based and custom IC implementation.
- ▶ Synopsys Eclipse Low Power Solution provides comprehensive systems to silicon support for the challenges of advanced low power design.
- ▶ The Synopsys Software-to-Silicon Verification Solution, including the Discovery Verification Platform, enables comprehensive verification of complex SoC with best-in-class algorithm and architecture analysis, functional and AMS simulation, virtual and FPGA-based prototyping.
- ▶ Synopsys offers the industry's broadest portfolio of high-quality, silicon-proven interface and analog IP solutions that enable designers to reduce integration risk and accelerate time-to-market.
- ▶ Synopsys system-level products bridge the gap from system design to implementation, including virtual platforms, algorithm design, high level synthesis and mechatronic system development.
- ▶ Synopsys' FPGA Implementation solution provides fast timing closure, technology independence and the best Quality of Results for FPGA devices.
- ▶ The Confirma Rapid Prototyping Plus Platform enables software development and system validation to start earlier in the design cycle, reducing project schedules by many months.
- ▶ Manufacturing solution provides mask synthesis and data preparation, lithography simulation and verification and yield management.
- ▶ Synopsys Professional Services delivers a comprehensive portfolio of consulting, design services, and Lynx – a production-ready design environment.
